LOMITA COMMUNITY CHURCH

Members of the Triple Lodge of Odd Fellows and of the Rebekah lodge attended a special service at the Lomita Community church last Sunday morning. H. V. Adams, a past grand member of the lodge, presented facts and figures in an interesting way, which showed the growth of the order and the amount of money expended in sustaining and carrying forward the enterprises of the order. The pastor, Rev. E. E. Clark, gave the message of the morning, using the text: "None of us liveth to himself," and "We are laborers together with God." Church and lodge are friends and should always remain friends. The spirit of brotherhood should go outside and beyond the lodge room and the church. The speaker urged the members of the lodge to be loyal to the country and obedient to the constitution and the law of God.

A group of the Rebekah ladies constituted the choir and Mrs. G. A. Carvill sang with pleasing effect, the offertory solo, "Babylon." The pulpit platform was beautifully decorated with jardinières of Shasta daisies and sweet peas—the work of the Rebekah ladies.

In the evening the pastor spoke on the subject, "More Excellent Way," setting forth the value and need of the spirit of love in the work of the church.
